

Volcanic Mineral Defends the Health of Your Cells

One hundred million years ago, volcanoes rose from the sea, dividing continents, creating mountains and forming much of the land as we know it. As these volcanoes erupted, molten lava and thick ash poured into the sea. The combination of thick ash and the salt from the sea caused a chemical reaction, and over thousands of years, precious minerals like zeolites began to form in the hardened lava.

What's a Zeolite & How Does It Work?

For centuries, the powdered forms of specific zeolites have been used as traditional remedies throughout Asia to promote overall health and well being. The story of the "healing volcanic rocks" has been passed down from generation-to-generation as more and more people have experienced its life-changing benefits.

Zeolites are natural volcanic minerals with a unique, complex crystalline structure. It's honeycomb framework of cavities and channels (like cages) works at the cellular level trapping allergens, heavy metals and harmful toxins. In fact, because it is one of the few negatively charged minerals in nature, zeolites act as magnets drawing toxins to it, capturing them in its cage and removing them from the body.

This unique ability to remove dangerous toxins is so well documented, it was used by the Russian government to absorb radioactive chemicals and other harmful toxins after the Chernobyl disaster.

How Waiora Acquired Natural Cellular Defense

A chemist in a small pharmaceutical company in Ohio was intrigued by the traditional healing powers of zeolites. He researched the mineral and discovered that it provided amazing results as a drug in treating cancer. He continued researching this amazing mineral and applied for and was granted a patent by the U.S. government.

He planned on moving forward with the FDA drug approval process. However, an extremely expensive and time-consuming process of bringing a new drug to market proved to be a daunting challenge. He was then introduced to the chairman of Waiora's Scientific Advisory Board, Rik Deitsch. Recognizing the product to be safe, all natural and non-toxic, Deitsch knew it could be brought to market much faster and at a much lower cost as a nutritional supplement.

What is the patent?

Waiora's Natural Cellular Defense is protected by U.S. Patent No. 6,288,045 entitled Epithelial Cell Cancer Drug.

What are epithelial cells?

Epithelial cells are skin tissues that cover and line the body. They cover all the body's organs (throat, lung, heart, breast, prostate, kidneys, liver, ovaries and colon) and line the body's cavities (including the inside of the chest and abdominal cavity).

Cancers of the epithelial cells are called "carcinomas" and make up about 85 percent of all cancers.
